I speak of two national intelligence agencies. One is the Soviet KGB and one is the US CIA. When I speak of Henry Kissinger I speak of both.

His actions and negotiations have been announced and publicized as acceptable to both governments-- the Soviet and the US.

He, Kissinger, has associates, influence, friendly recognition and controls in both the KGB and the CIA.

As head of the Security Council and as Secretary of State Kissinger controls the policy and operations of CIA.

The Soviet announced publicly that Henry Kissinger was their best negotiator --the best agent negotiator of their policy. He is the top US negotiator --considered the best by the US Senate which appointed him Secretary of State. There is no doubt in my mind that I am speaking of treason in the US Senate.

In order to maintain this notorious, unlegalized, new world order position for Henry Kissinger and the US Senate's un-treated, unlegalized detente, Rockefeller and Kissinger in Porto Rico, decided to advance the investigation of CIA.

Rockefeller notified Ford in Colorado that he would head the commission to investigate CIA to protect Kissinger's position and KGB interests. The purge of CIA was a necessity that could be accomplished through the typical complimenting and supplementary investigations by senators and the press, to protect their institutionalized, thirty year entrapment. The purge was a necessity to get rid of dissident people and dissident opinions.

The purge of CIA will assure that it will desist in any conflict or differences with KGB.

The return of CIA to its foreign duties will improve the environment and clear the deck for KGB operations in the US--its foreign duty, according to Kissinger.

Kissinger will no longer appear to be riding a white and a red horse at the same time. He will be back astride the older, safer, senate donkey, Mike, from Montana -- often referred to as a jack-ass.

If you are considering that to all intents, purpose, and effects the KGB is investigating and purging the CIA, you are correct.

PRESS LEADERSHIP - IN RACE VIOLENCE and REVOLUTION

1990-1-1

PRESS LEADERSHIP in 120 world capitals and 49 states, of charges against U. S. marshals at Oxford, Mississippi, October 1962, is confirmed.

ASSOCIATED PRESS wired, piped, printed and tubed through 8250 outlets, charges against U. S. marshals.

ASSOCIATED PRESS proved that it could lead charges in every foreign nation and state, except one, Mississippi—where it failed because Edwin A. Walker refused to lead a charge at any time against anyone, and was there as an eyewitness.

ASSOCIATED PRESS:

Invented its leadership of charges—headlined front-page world-wide.

Invented a General Walker—since by means of resignation there is none, only a Mr. Walker.

Invented charges against U. S. marshals.

Invented marshals that were charged—since none could be found.

Should you be wondering what happened? President John F. Kennedy had his official agents from the Oxford campus returning to Washington daily; and they assured him that the Associated Press reports of the last day, of a week-long confrontation, were completely false. He knew it. His knowledge of the "Big Lie" and its perpetrators placed him in grave danger.

Associated Press failed to prove in every courtroom in two states and in the U. S. Supreme Court Walker or any "General" led any charge against U.S. marshals at Oxford. Instead, the U. S. Supreme Court overruled all the courts by ruling that Walker could not receive a judgment for libel because he was a "public figure."

It's a new category of citizenship needed for a Redder country to protect a Redder press. The difference between lies and Red is negligible.

Associated Press lost every court decision until it appeared before the U. S. Supreme Court with Mr. Wm. P. Rogers as its attorney, a former Attorney General for the Eisenhower administration, and now beside Mr. Agnew and Mr. Nixon, who "appear" to be finding press power with a Supreme Court license to lie, hard to cope with.

Associated Press assured in 120 world capitals and 49 states that the absurd and ridiculous "overkill" by 300 marshals and 23,000 federal troops, a 40-fold propaganda excess, for one pseudo-student and for the diversion from Cuba, was adequately opposed by the "charging General" with his "fanatic wire service army" of a thousand unsuspecting, misused students—boys and girls.

Edwin A. Walker

(Note: United Press International printed and released the truth at the same hour.
It was ignored and did not get a single headline except in Mississippi.)

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: WEEVIL

APPROVED FOR RELEASE 1993
CIA HISTORICAL REVIEW PROGRAM

1. Reference is made to a memorandum of the same Subject, dated 27 November 1974, the original of which is in the file of Kenneth Ralph TOLLIVER (533 049), specifically concerning TOLLIVER's close association in 1967/1968 with Kenneth Howard TOWSEY of the Rhodesian Information Office, Washington, D. C. Reference is also made to the information contained therein that the organization "Friends of Rhodesian Independence" (from Great Britain) was a front for the activities of the right-wing "Liberty Lobby."

2. The OS file concerning "Liberty Lobby" contains the original of an OS field investigation in the name of Willis A. CARTO (497 311) who is the director of "Liberty Lobby." Page 6 of this report reflects that in July 1967, confidential source records in Los Angeles, California, contained information that one La Vonne D. FURR, Houston, Texas, not further identified, was a member of the National Coordinating Committee, Friends of Rhodesian Independence, 132 - 3rd Street, S. E., Washington, D. C., 20003, which was from a letter from the "Committee," dated, "Washington's Birthday, 1966." A similar OS report contained extracts from a Washington Post article, "Washington Merry-Go-Round" by Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, dated 6 January 1967, among others identifying Lavonne (sic) Doden FURR, the management editor of American Mercury Magazine, as being a contributor to or connected with "Liberty Lobby." The article further identifies American Mercury Magazine as being then an arm of "Liberty Lobby." The OS investigation further established that as of July 1966, American Mercury Magazine, had an address of P. O. Box 7213, Houston, 8, Texas. Additional OS investigation in Houston, Texas, revealed that P. O. Box 7213 at the Heights Station was rented on 27 September 1965 by Mrs. LaVonne B. (sic) FURR of 814 Woodland Avenue, Houston, for American Mercury Magazine as well as the Washington Observer Newsletter and the League for the Survival of Freedom. The Post Office box was terminated in about April 1967 with a forwarding address of P. O. Box 1306, Torrance, California. It was determined that 814 Woodland Street, Houston was occupied by Otis FARR (sic); and that Lewis B. FURR, married to LaVonne (sic) D. FURR, as of May 1966 were residing at 814 Woodland, and had formerly resided at 1410 Mississippi Street, Gulula, Alabama. Lewis B. FURR is connected with one Estroff and Sons. The investigation further established that on 27 January 1967, Lewis B. FURR, 24213 Ward Street, Torrance, California, was issued unlisted phone number 375-2458; and that he was listed as being employed by Noontide Press, 115-1/2 Larchmont, Los Angeles, California. FURR gave two references, John DABDON (or DABDOR), El Paso, Texas, telephone 751-3325; and Marge DODAN (sic), Finkburg, Mississippi, telephone 638-7962. FURR listed his previous address as 814 Woodlawn, Houston, Texas. It was established that La Vonne Doden FURR was born on 9 March 1920. It was further established that Willis CARTO was connected with the American Mercury Magazine and with the FURRs in Los Angeles.

3. OS file #407 890 concerns the American Mercury Magazine. The Fall 1966 and the Spring 1968 editions show La Vonne Doden FURR as the managing editor. The following is extracted from a long summary of the American Mercury Magazine, dated 24 May 1968:

"The American Mercury Magazine, originally founded in 1924 by H. L. Mencken and subsequently owned (in 1939) by Lawrence Selvyk, until 1961 was published by Russell Maguire. Maguire, although claiming not to be anti-Semitic, was openly anti-Zionist. Maguire also claimed his publication to be anti-Communist, anti-Nazi, anti-Internationalist, anti-Socialist and pro-American.

"In March 1961 the editorial composition of the magazine changed with the departure of Maguire. The new publisher was Defenders of the Christian Faith, Wichita, Kansas. The Defenders was described as a religious non-profit corporation operating under the laws of the State of Kansas. The Chairman was Gwynne W. Davidson, D.D. The only significant personalities identified as contributors to the new publication were Hilaire DuBerrier, Rev. A. W. Pritchard, Lt. Gen. P. A. DelValle, Vice Admiral A. E. Jarrell and Col. Victor J. Fox (pen name for Robert A. Winston).

"In January 1963 the Defenders of Christian Faith, Inc. disappeared from the management to be replaced by the Legion for the Survival of Freedom, Inc., P.O. Box 100, McAllen, Texas, of which the Chairman was E. Wiltzie Blatner; General Edwin A. Walker was prominent as military editor of that publication. 1963 in Dallas, Tex.

"In the autumn of 1965 the publisher continued to be the Legion for Survival of Freedom, Inc. but the editor was designated as LaVonne Doden Furr; the aforementioned Hilaire DuBerrier was listed prominently as foreign correspondent.

"In June of 1966 the publisher remained the same. However, the Chairman of the Board was changed to Bruce Holman, the present Chairman. Furr remained as Managing Editor, and contributing editors added included Frank Capell, John Henshaw, Robert Kuttner, Lee Roberts, etc.

"In the fall of 1966, the name of the Legion for Survival of Freedom, Inc. was dropped as publisher although the officers and editors remained the same. The issue included the incorporation of Western Destiny, Folk, and Northern World, defunct publications. It was in this issue the link between the Washington Observer Newsletter and American Mercury Magazine is first noted. An advertisement therein indicates that subscribers to the American Mercury Magazine would henceforth receive a free subscription to the Newsletter.

"In the winter 1967 issue a statement of ownership dated 29 September 1967 appears. The statement shows the publication to be a quarterly with its office of publication being at 115 N. Larchmont, Los Angeles, California 90004. Its mailing address was noted to be P.O. Box 1306, Torrance, California 90505. The publisher listed in the statement of ownership was the Legion for Survival of Freedom, Inc., 115 N. Larchmont, Los Angeles, California, a non-profit organization. LaVonne D. Furr, at the Torrance, California, post office box number, was identified as managing editor. The ownership statement indicates that no stock has been issued by the Legion. The publisher's statement included the following circulation figures: Total copies printed (average for previous 12 months) - 8,662; of these, none were distributed through dealers; 78 were free circulation and 6747 were sent to mail subscribers; the remainder was indicated for overage and office use. The statement also indicated the last single issue was printed in 8,000 copies of which none were distributed by dealers; 103 were free circulation and 6,123 were distributed to mail subscribers; the remainder of the printing is indicated as overage. "

4. CS file #539 320 concerns Willis CARTO, titular head of "Liberty Lobby. " This file contains an article from the 10 September 1971 edition of National Review, "The Strange Story of Willis CARTO" reflecting the following information concerning the Friends of Rhodesian Independence, and the FURR, and other matters of possible interest:

The sole owner of Noontide Press is Willis CARTO.

In 1963, Americans for National Security was formed as a Liberty Lobby front as a contact point among the military. The board of employers consisted of thirteen retired officers plus Dr. Harold P. CALDWELL, formerly of the John Birch Society. It operated out of the Liberty Lobby offices under the nominal direction of Stanley M. ANDREWS, fundamentalist preacher, former aide to Ohio Senator Frank LAUSCHE, and a member of the policy board.

Taylor CALDWELL, the novelist, the ostensible head of Friends of Rhodesian Independence, was also on the Policy Board of Liberty Lobby.

La Vonne D. FURR, of the American Mercury Magazine, was also an officer of the Legion for the Survival of Freedom.

John ACORD had bought the mailing list of the Friends of Rhodesian Independence and set up the American-Southern Africa Council.
